President's Budget

Recently President Obama unveiled the last budget proposal of his Presidency. This document outlines the goals of the administration and acts as a suggestion to Congress on how to fund federal programs for the upcoming Fiscal Year (FY) 2017, and is mainly an indication of the priorities of the federal agencies. In the Budget, programs that exist to end veteran homelessness have received positive attention and proposed increases in funding.

Specifically, several programs are singled out for increased funding in the next fiscal year:

- For the first time in many years, the Department of Labor (DOL) has requested that the Homeless Veteran Reintegration Program (HVRP) be fully funded at its authorization cap of $50 million. This would realize an increase in funding of $11,891,000 over the status quo of the past few years. With this increase, DOL projects that it will be able to increase enrollment of veterans in the program by more than five thousand individuals. The Department is also considering raising the caps on grant awards for both urban and rural areas.
- The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) requested $7 million to actualize the Tribal Housing and Urban Development-Veterans Affairs Supportive Housing (HUD-VASH) Demonstration program for Native American homeless veterans.
- The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) has requested a total of $496 million for the case management and supportive services provided by that department to the HUD-VASH program. This is a year-over-year increase of more than $80 million.

Other programs did not receive increases:

- Funding for the Supportive Services for Veteran Families (SSVF) program has been requested at $300 million, which is a flat funding from the previous year.
- The Grant and Per Diem (GPD) program funding request was $247 million. This is $46 million above what the Department requested last year. NCHV was able to stop that year's proposed cut, and is pleased to see that the request for the upcoming fiscal year is in line with what communities across the country need.
- With the exception of the $7 million for Tribal HUD-VASH and the more than $80 million in increased case management and supportive services funding mentioned above, the President's Budget does not request any additional HUD-VASH vouchers for FY 2017.

Altogether, the VA has requested more than $1.6 billion in direct funding to support homeless veteran rescue and prevention programs, permanent supportive housing, employment, healthcare, and legal services. NCHV applauds the advances made in this year's Presidential Budget, and will work with Congress to achieve the increases called for, while pushing for increases in other areas.

Trauma-Informed Care in Service Systems

New tool from American Institutes for Research

Organizational trauma-informed care is a systemic approach to service delivery that is grounded in an understanding of the causes and consequences of trauma and promotes resilience and healing.

Trauma-informed organizations ensure that mission, culture, and practice are aligned to recognize and support trauma survivors.

American Institutes for Research (AIR) supports the adoption of trauma-informed care across service systems through training and technical assistance, resource and curriculum development, and research and evaluation.

National Center for Homelessness Among Veterans Releases Permanent Supportive Housing Guide

Evolving document serves to provide overview of emerging strategies

The Department of Veterans Affairs National Center for Homelessness Among Veterans has released the second edition of the Permanent Supportive Housing Resource Guide. The Guide mirrors the tremendous progress that has been made towards ending veteran homelessness by placing greater emphasis on issues and strategies related to maintenance of housing, community integration and recovery for the previously homeless veteran.

This guide organizes and encapsulates a broad spectrum of information relevant to staff working with veterans in permanent supportive housing. It is recognized that in spite of being a substantial document it is far from comprehensive and the reader should consider it to be one of the potential tools to utilize in developing competency in this unique clinical arena. It is similarly acknowledged that information is never static or complete and this document is intended to be "living and evolving" with anticipated updates as new material becomes available.

Service Provider Survey on Food Insecurity

Responses requested by Feb. 27

Service providers working with homeless veterans know that access to food is essential for stability. Veteran food insecurity within the homeless population is unfortunately under-reported and under-researched. Responses to these surveys from providers and homeless veterans will assist in developing an understanding on the issues from both perspectives.
